FOR PRESIDENT,

JAMES A. GARFIELD, OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

CHESTER A. ARTHUR,
OF NEW YORK.

GOOD NOMINATIONS.

The Republican candidate for County Recorder is a native of old England. He came to New York when 12 years of age, now he is 40. He served in the navy during the war and did good and valiant work for the country we love. He has lived in Reno for the past six years, where his reputation for sobriety, intelligence and application is No. 1. He is a man of fine taste and has done some of the best work, if not the very best, work in his line ever done in Reno. He is a painter by profession and has considerable musical ability as well, which he exercises as an amateur. We have no hesitation in saying that if Mr. Laycock is elected to the office of Recorder the tax payers of Washoe county will have no cause to repent it. He is a neat and correct penman and is a man to be trusted anywhere.

Dan Boyd is so well acquainted with our readers that he needs no mention. He has served them in several capacities and always with credit to himself and the county. He has never asked for anything he didn't get. His friends are of all parties and he will secure a very large vote, and it is right that he should, for it shows that it pays to be honest and do right. It teaches a lesson very much needed just now, that has become almost one of the forgotten proverbs, "Honesty is the best policy." Mr. Boyd has had numerous opportunities to betray this people, but he has never done so and he never will. He is a thoroughly good man. His every act shows it, and he can safely be trusted in the important office of County Treasurer.

JUSTICE TO HANCOCK.

When Gen. Grant's interview with Dr. Fowler was first published we believed that the damaging story told by Gen. Grant about Hancock's misconduct in Louisiana was true. It seemed incredible that General Grant could make false accusations of so grave a nature against a brother officer.

We are now satisfied, from an examination of the facts in the case, that General Grant's charges against General Hancock were wholly unfounded. We believe that General Hancock's conduct in Louisiana was entirely beyond suspicion and far above reproach. This we say in justice to a brave and honorable Union General whose character we were led to attack through a misplaced confidence in the truthfulness of General Grant.

Although we believe General Hancock to be honest, we know him to be ignorant of politics, and to represent a party of vicious and dangerous elements. Therefore his election would be a calamity. General Garfield is just as honest, incomparably more able, and is the exponent of all that is highest and best in this country. Therefore his election would be a blessing. But we would sooner see Garfield defeated than elected by a lie at the expense of an honorable adversary.

The Republican party needs not the aid of lies to win next Tuesday. Leave lying to the Democrats. Let them lie about Garfield, and send copies of forged letters over his signature far and wide through the country. Every lie and every forgery will react in his favor. Voters will make no mistake in their choice between Republican honesty and fair play and Democratic trickery and deceit.

Which Fledge Will Hancock Keep?

THIS ONE!

From the National Democratic Platform, June 22.

A tariff for revenue only.

From Hancock's Letter of Acceptance, July 29.

The principles enumerated by the Convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future.

ON THIS ONE!

From Hancock's interview in the Patterson Guardian (Dem.) Oct. 6.

The Patterson people need have no anxiety whatever that I will favor anything that interferes with the manufacturing interests of the country. There will be just as much protection under a Democratic as under a Republican Administration.

WHAT IT MEANS.

I. Republican success next month means uninterrupted prosperity.
II. The continuance of honesty in office. Under the present Republican Administration but one-third of one cent out of every $1,000 of revenue collected has been lost. Under the Democratic Administration of Van Buren the thefts amounted to $11.71 on each $1,000 collected.

III. The fostering of manufacturing industries, giving employment to hundreds of thousands of workingmen.

IV. The continuance of the National banking system, with its currency exchangeable for gold in any State or Territory of the Union.

V. Free speech and the protection of the ballot everywhere in the United States.

VI. The honest payment of the Nation's debt, contracted in suppressing the rebellion of the men who now seek to gain by votes what they failed to get by bullets.

VII. The faithful payment of pensions to the soldiers who fought under the Stars and Stripes, and to their widows and orphans.

VIII. That the loyal men of the North and West shall not be taxed for pensions in support of rebels who fought against the Union, nor to pay for the corn and cotton that the boys in blue trampled under their feet when marching over rebel soil.

IX. The death blow to the devilish doctrines of State Sovereignty and Secession, which once caused a civil war, and may again.

X. The preservation intact of the Constitutional Amendments, that the war may not have been fought in vain.

These are some of the things that the election of Garfield means.

WORKING ON THE CHINESE QUESTION.

The Democratic papers of the Pacific coast are doing their best to make out that Garfield favors Chinese immigration. In order to help them out in this effort they are printing in big type a forged letter over Garfield's signature, although the forgery has been denounced and the forger exposed. The fences and dead walls have been placarded with copies of the forged Morey letter, and the Democratic managers are trying to make the forgery do all the harm it can while it is fresh.

There is nothing surprising about these Democratic tactics. The Democracy doesn't stop at a little thing like forgery when a big prize like the Presidency is in sight.

How is it that the Democrats don't placard the walls with a declaration of Hancock's views upon the Chinese question?

Because he has never made any. In his letter of acceptance he evaded any response to the anti-Chinese plank in the Democratic platform.

The reason of Hancock's reticence upon the Chinese question is not known, but may be guessed at. He has many friends among the planters of Louisiana. Those planters have a project for importing Chinese cheap labor to till their fields. Hancock wants the support of the Solid South. No wonder he keeps his mouth shut on the Chinese question.

REBEL FLAGS FLYING.

One of the best reasons why no loyal citizen should give a vote for Hancock next week is that his election would mean the elevation to controlling power of the Southern Democracy, composed largely of unregenerated rebels and men whose notions of State Sovereignty might again plunge this country into a war for the upholding of the supreme authority of the National Government.

The South has been conquered but not subdued and reconciled. The South is still dangerous. Witness the tone of the speeches of such leading Southern men as Wade Hampton. Witness the rebel flags that are unfurled on Southern soil.

The San Francisco Bulletin publishes the following extracts from a letter written August 26, 1880, from Sulphur Springs, Arkansas, by E. Kirkpatrick to his father Captain R. R. Kirkpatrick of Oakland:

"This country is a regular rebel-dom. The Democrats had a big barbecue last Monday, and I saw two rebel flags flying from wagons that were carrying people to the picnic, and to cap it all the paper came out in the evening and printed a large rebel flag and said: 'Hurrah for our side.' Hancock and English! This happened at Hot Springs, our nearest post office, and the Northern men here bought every paper of that day and sent them North to all the principal newspapers. I sent one copy to the Council Bluffs Nonpareil."

A Battered Baby Show.

There is to be a baby show in Horticultural Hall, Boston, with a prize each for the baby under a year old with the handsomest eyes, the blackest eyes, the bluest eyes, the most hair, the least hair, the most weight, the least weight, the smallest hands, and the smallest feet. The finest baby will receive a grand prize.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A Mexican baby was born in Tucson, Arizona, with two faces upon a single head. The little darling had four ears, and when its fond mother thought of the trouble it would give her to look after the child's two noses, she consoled herself with the recollection that there were four ears by which it could be pulled into good manners. This prodigy would apply one of its mouths to the maternal breast and with the other eagerly suck from a bottle. It would yell with one mouth and smile with the other. Had the child lived, it would have made the fortune of some enterprising showman, but with a deplorable neglect of its opportunities it has given up the ghost.

The Bodie postmaster is much annoyed by questions concerning the Carson stage. Whenever it is late, people come in and bother him to know what the matter is. As he has no telegraphic communication with the coach, he knows no more about the cause of the delay than they do. With a view to saving himself annoyance, he has had a large placard printed, and whenever the coach is late he hangs it out on the postoffice door. It reads as follows: "Stage not in. Don't know whether it is robbed or not. Don't know anything."

(Signed) G. F. PUTNAM.

There may be some doubt about the accusation that Wm. H. English robbed his grandmother and her heirs. But the facts given in proof of the assertion have not been denied. Leading Democratic papers confess the man a skinflint and a miser. Let these personal charges pass. The worst thing about English is that he is the candidate of a party which believed his efforts to extend slavery into the Territories would make him popular with a large class of its voters.

One of the prettiest compliments ever reported was paid recently to the owner of a pair of bright eyes who lives on Prairie avenue. She took a child upon her lap, and after gazing intently into her face for a few moments, the little one asked, naively: "are your eyes new?"—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The East Anglian Daily Times, an English paper, reports that the divorced wife of the Rev. Newman Hall was married at the Registrar's office, Great Yarmouth, in the month of August, to Richardson, the groom whose name was prominently mentioned in Dr. Hall's suit for divorce.

The fact that there are 174 Chinese in Chicago, without a woman in the whole lot, is a proof of the inferiority of the Mongolian race. When 174 men of any race can get along without any women, there is something wrong about the breed.

Slade, the medium, is in Rochester; and it is said that a wealthy man of that city is willing to pay a number of scientists for their time and trouble if they will consent to put the manifestations of the spiritualist to a thorough test.

M. Emile de Girardin recommends young Frenchmen to let Greek and Latin alone, and to study English and Spanish, because they are the languages of the future.

Reno Republicans ought to return Carson's visit. Why not pick up everybody in Franktown on Friday night and move right on to Carson?

Large quantities of butter, packed in little parcels, are sent by mail in Germany. It thus goes direct from the dairy to the table of the consumer.

The great actress Sara Bernhardt, has arrived in New York. The current pun at her expense is that she has come over to get a little fresh air.

An Indian woman has just died in Indian Territory at the premature age of 114, owing to the effects of the excessive use of tobacco for 105 years.

A sixteen-year-old girl was killed by a bulldog that she was attempting to chain up the other day in Bradford, Penn.

Ploche poker pots last week ranged as high as $1,000, with from $3,000 to $5,000 on the table.

The "Home-to-Glory Tunnel Company" is one of the peculiar names known in Bodie.

Hancock's pen has done a great deal more harm than his sword ever did.

Severe Justice.

From the Rice County Journal.
A half-breed Indian named Dixon, convicted of the murder of a woman, was executed at Atoka, Indian Territory, not long since. Being given his choice as to the instrument of death, he selected a Winchester rifle. His own cousin, also at his request, fired the fatal ball.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

The Little Emma mine of Homer district, Mono, Cal., is to have a mill next Spring.

Judge Daniel C. Denson, of Sacramento, has been elected Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Masons of California.

The first prisoner put in the new jail at Grove, A. T., was shackled, the iron being placed outside his boot. He then pulled off his boot and walked off.

Marble is now on exhibition at Eureka which came from an extensive quarry not twenty miles from the Central Pacific railroad. It can be sawed out in blocks one hundred feet long.

The National says the prettiest horse at the Greenview Fair was owned by C. P. Barney, of Sierra Valley; a sorrel, three years old, Signal and Morgan stock, and a beauty.

A California Justice, in a moment of anger, said that the lawyers in a case on trial before him were no better than horse thieves. Then he apologized, and fined himself $10 for contempt of court.

A woman is on the stump in the Fourth California District, a Mrs. C. P. Taggett. She devotes her entire attention to showing up the rascals of Wallace Leach, Democratic candidate for Congress.

Last week, at Bodie, the standard extracted 1,585 tons of ore. The pulp assays $24.78. Twenty-three hundred and ninety-eight ounces of crude bullion, worth $23,016, were shipped. Important developments are being made in Boston Consolidated and Concordia. Summit has shut down.

Yesterday, at Sacramento, George A. Basler, proprietor of the Fountain Stables, was arrested at the instance of Ella Johnson. She alleges that a year ago Basler married her secretly, but afterward claimed that the wedding was a sham. Basler claims that there never was any pretense of marriage.

Overholtz, Hicks and Mays, the three highwaymen who escaped last month from the Boise, Idaho, Jail, were recaptured October 24, by J. S. White, the prison warden, and George Freeman and Neil Harlett, citizens. It was about a week before they got on the trail, and they have followed the convicts night and day through the sagebrush in Snake River Valley for three weeks past, overtaking them near Salmon river falls.

HANCOCK AND THE TARIFF.

HE DECLARES THE PATERNON INTERVIEW TO BE ENTIRELY CORRECT. From the Patterson Daily Guardian (Dem.) Oct. 11.

General Hancock was visited again on Saturday by a Guardian representative. It was not a newspaper interview, however, and the information obtained is not reportable at the present time. We only refer to it to say that General Hancock carefully perused the interview published in Saturday's Guardian, and pronounced it correct—it being substantially just what he said, in every respect, and especially that part referring to the question of the tariff.

A DEMOCRATIC EDITOR TELLS HIM IT IS "SILLY NONSENSE."

From the New York Star, chief Tammany organ, Oct. 13.

Republican editors are needlessly exciting themselves over an alleged interview in which General Hancock is reported to have said that "the tariff question is only a local question." It is scarcely necessary to remark that he never uttered any words so silly. If he conversed on the subject at all, he may have said that the protective tariff appeals to local interests—which is quite a different thing from the nonsense attributed to him.

Wrinkles For Drinkers.

French physicians have found brandy to be a perfect antidote to drunkenness from beer, and a French paper declares that cabbage is a sovereign remedy, or rather antidote, against intoxication, and that by eating a certain amount people may drink at libitum afterward without inconvenience.

JOTTINGS.

— Smith Hill wants to get proposals for building a house.

— The School Trustees want bids for the construction of the new school house south of the river. Apply to J. L. McFarlin.

— The brakeman Martin, who is sick with varioloid at the County Hospital, passed a restless night, but is doing pretty well.

— The Democratic have engaged a special train to run to Wadsworth next Friday afternoon. The train will leave Reno at 3 p. m.

— Hon. George W. Cassidy, of Eureka, the Democratic nominee for Congress, will address a political meeting in the theatre this evening.

— Alex. Countryman is repairing and replacing the chords in the V. & T. bridge, a job of considerable difficulty and requiring much mechanical skill.

— The Republicans will make a magnificent demonstration next Monday evening. There will be an immense torchlight procession, and speaking in the theatre.

— The Republican County Central Committee have arranged for a free train from Carson to Reno on Monday next. There will also be a free train from Reno to Franktown on Friday.

— There was a good Republican meeting at Washoe City last night. A special train took up many passengers from Reno in the afternoon. There was considerable speechmaking and all passed off happily.

— The following scriptural quotation bears upon the visit of Mrs. Schooling's mother to her relatives in San Francisco: "Arise and go to thy daughter, for thy daughter's daughter has a daughter." The lady is over eighty years old, and has a great-grandchild.

— As Tuesday approaches, political excitement increases. Many persons appear to think that the bottom is going to tumble out of the universe unless things go the way they think right. No matter what the result may be, the White House in Reno will go right on selling clothing and furnishing goods at the same old low prices.

Matrimonial Knots.

Robert B. Hill and Nellie E. Hill, both of San Francisco, were married at the Palace Hotel in Reno last evening.

County Clerk Parish this morning issued the necessary license to Nicholas Smith, steward of the Depot Hotel, authorizing him to lead Miss Emma J. Curry to the altar. Miss Curry is only sixteen. The consent of her mother had to be formally made in the Clerk's office before the license could be issued. The groom is about thirty. Justice Young will make them man and wife this evening.

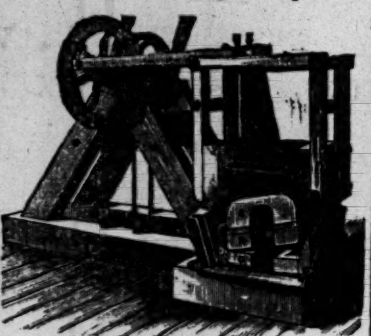

Curious Occurrence at Wadsworth.

In Wadsworth last week two men were obliged to leave their boarding house and find new quarters. One of them had kissed the landlady's daughter, and the other had given aid and comfort to the ravisher. At least that is the explanation given of the change they made. The story is very singular. If all the landladies in the country were of the same mind as this severe mother in Wadsworth, a whole army of boarders would be on the move in all directions. Prof. Burdard is held accountable for the introduction of such ridiculous puritanical ideas in Wadsworth.

THE HUNTINGTON CRUSHER.

A Quartz Mill Without Stems, Cams or Tappets.

A late number of the Mining and Scientific Press of San Francisco contained the following description of the Huntington Oscillating Stamp Mill:

This is an entirely new invention, and one which is out of the usual track, being really a stamp without stems, cams or tappets. It consists essentially of a bifurcated arm, at the upper end of which is the pitman for oscillating it back and forth. At the lower ends are the shoes, which rest on dies having enclosed sides or back pieces. As the arm is oscillated, first one shoe strikes and then the other alternately. By the peculiar construction a grinding as well as a crushing action is maintained. The shoe strikes and crushes the rock and then slides along a little, grinding the crushed rock under it. This combines therefore the action of the stamp and anvil. The engraving shows the operation so plainly that a detailed description is unnecessary. This machine is very simple and economical, being durable and working effectively. From its peculiar construction the power required is comparatively light. Among miningmen this machine is attracting a great deal of attention. It is a cheap mill, an 850-lb hammer costing $500, while one with 1,200-lb hammer costs $600. For double mills, working from same shaft, $50 is deducted from price of second stamp at above figures.

The alternate rocking of the bifurcated weight brings first one leg in contact with the rock and then the other, the ore being rapidly crushed, and the whole weight of the stamp never having to be lifted. When, however, the weight begins to fall all the weight of both legs is imparted to the blow that the falling one delivers. The lower shoe ends of the legs always keep in the proper position, since the rounded corners of the mortar give them a tendency to move towards the centre at each blow. This peculiar motion is attended with a grinding or pulverizing action as the stamp is shifted in another direction.

The machine is so arranged that an automatic ore feeder may be used with it. Very little power, comparatively, is required to operate the bifurcated stamp or weight, while its action is very effective. One stamp acts as a fulcrum to raise the other, the action being alternate.

There are four of these mills at work at the California Water and Mining Co.'s mines, El Dorado county; two at Oro Fino mine, Shingler Springs; two at Hornitos, Mariposa county. There is also one at Forbestown, Butte county; one in the Black Hills, one in Idaho, one in Washington Territory, three on the way to Arizona, etc. A number are now being made at the foundry, 213 Fremont street, where Mr. F. A. Huntington, inventor and manufacturer, has his headquarters where further information can be had.

THE RUSH FOR WINTER GOODS.

C. A. Loomis is doing a fine business in dry goods. The ladies are all flocking to his establishment to inspect and to purchase the materials for the winter's campaign. He is showing some very pretty styles in hosiery (not classed as campaign material) and has all the new things in buttons, ribbons, etc. The cold weather will soon be here and the snow flying, so that those who purchase winter goods now will not have to endure the discomfort of unseasonable garments when the cold snap comes. Loomis and his clerks are kept very busy, but there is plenty of room and attention for all customers.

Fitzgerald's Sentence.

The sentence of Barney Fitzgerald, convicted of murder in the second degree, was to have been given this morning in the District Court, but the prisoner's counsel procured a continuance until 6:30 this evening, in order to present a motion for a new trial. The affidavit prepared in support of this motion alleges that Gertenbach, after being sworn as a juror, said openly that he meant to "hang the s— of a b—" (Fitzgerald.) Gertenbach denies that he made any such remark.

Republican Meeting at Bova.

Says the Truckee Republican: On Saturday evening last the Republicans of Bova had a grand rally. There were quite a large number went down from Truckee. There was a torchlight procession, music by the Truckee Glee Club and speaking by Messrs. Lewison, Young, Weisenberger and Watson, and the most enthusiastic meeting held in the township this campaign was the result.

Personal.

George Becker was very ill yesterday, but is better to-day.

The manager of the Wine House has a bad attack of pneumonia.

Senator Powning has returned from his tour through the Great East. He says it is likely that instead of the Democrats having a majority of 500 in Eastern Nevada, they will have no majority at all.

VOCAL CHORDS.

The Shorb Organ in the Theatre Last Evening—Airs in the Keys of H Flat And E Sharp—General Kittrell Goes On the War Path.

The political meeting in the theatre last evening drew a large audience of Democrats and Republicans curious to hear Dr. J. C. Shorb, of San Francisco, a Democratic nominee for Presidential elector who had been heralded as an orator of no mean ability. As the doctor was to take the express train for San Francisco his speech was comparatively brief. He made a good appearance on the platform. His figure is large and well proportioned and his gesticulation appropriate and graceful. He is a man of magnificent lung, great depth and profundity of chest, and a throat of the largest calibre. His complexion is florid, hair and moustache black. His features are large and prominent, his nose strongly aquiline, his forehead receding and pyramidal in form. A man of exuberant verbiage, a skilled rhetorician and a practiced elocutionist, but defective in logic, weak in argument, and sophistical in persuasion, his words were addressed rather to the ear than to the understanding of his hearers. A flowing stream of rich pure English gushed from his lips like water from a living spring. He seemed to speak without an effort, never hesitating for a moment, never pausing for a word. Whole troops of tropes came tripping from his tongue. It was a sensuous treat to listen to the musical flow of such a stream of rich sonorous words from a wind instrument of such compass and power. All enjoyed Dr. Shorb. He was as good as a fine church organ and superior to a brass band. He sounded the praises of Hancock, and played a cheering strain over the Indiana and Ohio defeat. His symphony over the election of next week was greatly admired. A composition on the fraud of '76 was finely rendered, the superb passages explaining why Tilden was not nominated in '80 being omitted for want of time. The music of Dr. Shorb was frequently and heartily applauded and he sat down amidst prolonged applause. General Hagerman presiding, called upon Gen. Kittrell for a speech. When General Kittrell stepped upon the stage and began to speak he seemed as gentle and quiet as a little lamb. But in less than two minutes he had his rhetorical knife out and was slashing at the scalp of the Hon. William Sharon. He dangled the figure of the Senator before the audience and buried his reeking tomahawk again and again into the Senatorial brain. Dropping the Senatorial remains, the General charged full tilt upon the Central Pacific Railroad and slashed away at freights and fares until he was tired. Then he flew at the Republican party, cupped and leech and lanced it, blistered it, applied the moxa and wound up with the actual canyery. He left the party in much better health as the result of his heroic treatment.

At the conclusion of General Kittrell's speech, a vote of thanks was passed, and the meeting broke up with three cheers for Hancock and English.

A Snake-Eating Toad in Carson.

Mr. Pine, of the State Prison at Carson, yesterday related to a GAZETTE reporter a curious anecdote which illustrates the elasticity of the common garden toad. Two toads dwelt this summer in the pump yard of the State Prison. One day about two months ago a garter snake, sixteen inches long, wiggled into the pump house. One of the toads hopped forward open-mouthed, and commenced swallowing the snake. In a short time the snake had almost completely disappeared down the throat of its captor, leaving only an inch or two of tail projecting from the toad's mouth. The other toad had been quietly watching the proceedings, and at this stage came forward and began swallowing the tail. There is no telling what might have happened had the toads been left to dispose of the snake as might to them seem best, but Mr. Pine interfered and drew the snake from its snug lodging in the toad. An hour or two afterward a small snake of the same kind came into the pump house and was quickly gobbled up by the same toad which had nearly swallowed the large snake. Several gentlemen officially connected with the penitentiary vouch for the truth of this narrative. The remarkable thing about the story is that the toad, reversing the usual order in such cases, should have eaten the snake, instead of the snake the toad. The toad of this exploit still lives, and is shown to visitors as one of the interesting objects of the State Prison.

The Lake Case.

The trial of the Lake case was resumed in the District Court this morning. Mrs. Lake was recalled in her own behalf and gave testimony in support of the allegations of the complaint, instancing many acts of cruelty on the part of the defendant. Her direct examination had not been concluded at noon. The defence will make no statement to the jury until the plaintiff rests her case. This afternoon Mrs. Lake is on the stand again.

A Reno Man in Trouble.

The Sacramento Bee of last evening had this local item: On complaint of Ed. Shorb, a man named G. P. Curtis, of Reno, Nevada, was yesterday afternoon arrested on a charge of perjury. Curtis had charged Shorb and James Consans with having robbed him and was giving testimony against them.

BY TELEGRAPH.

A Forgery Factory in the hands of the Law.

New York, Oct. 27.

At this hour, 4 A. M., the paper which originally published the forgery on Garfield is not out yet, though an hour behind its usual time. Both the counting office and the press room, which are in different streets, are in the custody of the U. S. Marshals, and the public are not admitted. The Marshals are reticent.

Charles Francis Adams for Garfield.

New York, Oct. 27.

Charles Francis Adams, who was a Tilden man four years ago, is now out for Garfield. He addresses a Republican meeting in this city to-morrow night.

Hancock and Grant.

New York, Oct. 25.

A Telegram reporter inquired of Hancock to-day in regard to affairs between himself and Grant. Following is the substance of the conversation:

"Has General Grant retracted his assault upon your character?"

"He has not, further than what has appeared in public print."

"Have you written to him?"

"No, sir."

"Nor he to you?"

"No, sir; we have not had the slightest communication with each other in the matter. As I stated at the time the Ex-President's alleged statements were first published, I was surprised that an old soldier should thus attack another."

Hancock has now concluded not to pay any further attention to the matter. He considers it a thing of the past, about which the least said is the better.

Democratic Registration Frauds in Colorado.

DENVER, Oct. 26.

The registration in this city shows immense frauds. The total number registered is 17,035, being twice the number of actual voters. The total population is only 39,000. In one ward 140 Democrats are said to have been registered from a single lot, and since the registration began, one Democrat has voted for 631 votes. A prominent Democrat from the East is said to have done the work, with the assistance of an organized gang of ward workers from Cincinnati. The advice received at Republican headquarters are that the Democrats are colonizing voters from Wyoming and New Mexico. Great excitement prevails among Republicans of these wards, such frauds being entirely unexpected.

The Democrats Desperate in Indiana.

New York, Oct. 26.

A Herald Cleveland special says: General Garfield stated to-day to one of his callers that he had just received information that the Democratic managers of Indiana proposed, during the few remaining days of the campaign, to spend more money in buying votes than they had ever done before, realizing that it is absolutely necessary for them to carry Indiana if they expect to elect Hancock.

Running Down A Lie.

New York, Oct. 26.

The Republican National Committee this morning dispatched a special car to San Francisco with copies in electrotype of the denial of the Chinese letter alleged to have been written by Garfield. It is intended that the car will reach there on Saturday, either ahead or simultaneously with the mails carrying the lithographic and electrotype copies of the forgery. The trip across the continent will be much faster than ever made by any train.

Arrest of the Forger of the Morey Letter.

New York, Oct. 26.

Kennard Phelps, an editorial writer on Truth, was arrested to-day in Brooklyn on the charge of forgery in connection with the so-called Garfield's Chinese letter. He will be arraigned in the Supreme Court this afternoon. His counsel has already applied for his discharge on habeas corpus.

Indictment of Gray for Murder.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 26.

The Grand Jury of Santa Barbara county to-day found an indictment against Clarence Gray for the murder of Theodore Glancy, late editor of the Santa Barbara Press.

A Boy Killed by Lightning.

TOMBSTONE, Oct. 26.

We Can't Talk.

Without showing the condition of our teeth. Every high exposes them. In order not to be ashamed of them, let us use that standard dentifrice, SOZODONT, which is sure to keep them white and spotless. No tartar can encrust them, no canker affect the enamel, no species of decay infect the dental bone. If SOZODONT is regularly used. It is a botanical preparation, and its beneficial effects on the teeth and gums are marvelous, as it removes all discolorations, and renders the gums hard and rosy.
